The Testing Office does not have access to AFCT scores. Scores are issued approximately 14-21 days after exam administration and will be posted in MCTFS (3270), via the Unit Diary. Marines submitting packages for various USMC programs should anticipate the delay in scores and schedule exams accordingly. RUSH SCORING DOES NOT EXIST!

AFCT exams are administered on Mondays by appointment only. CMC mandates all Marine personnel, enlisted and officer, must provide an authorization letter signed by their Battalion or Squadron Commanding Officer requesting a retake of the AFCT. A “CERTIFIED TRUE COPY” of previous AFCT scores must accompany authorization letter. Request letter templates are available from the Testing Office or online at www.mccslejeune-newriver.com under “Marine & Family Programs,” “Higher Learning,” and “Military Testing.” The testing office cannot schedule or test any military members without providing the correct paperwork. Current military I.D. is required for all testing. NO MILITARY ID, NO TESTING. The “Uniform of the Day” or civilian clothes may be worn during this test.
